ACPS Annual Meeting

During the official ACPS Annual Business Meeting on the evening of June 31, Dr. Baogang Guo was awarded the ACPS Professional Achievement Award in recognition of his significant contributions to the field of Chinese politics. Dr. Guo has been a key figure in the study of China's political development, and his work has had a profound impact on the field.

In other news, the ACPS has announced the appointment of Dr. Wei Liang as the new Treasurer. Dr. Liang brings a wealth of experience in the field of international relations, having served as the Membership Director of the Association of Chinese Political Science since 2008. His appointment is a testament to the organization's commitment to excellence and leadership.

The ACPS also recognized the outstanding service of Dr. Fu Jia Lu and Dr. Ming Wan, who have served as the Publicity Director and President of the ACPS, respectively, for many years. Their dedication and hard work have been instrumental in shaping the organization's trajectory.

In elementary schools can influence student performance in rural northwest China. He will be working with his Chinese colleagues at Northwest University (Xida) and Center for Research on Education and Development to explore the impact of education reforms on student outcomes.

During his stay at Leiden in September, he gave an international seminar on "the relationship between legitimacy and governance, theories and practices of legitimacy in Chinese and western views, different approaches to legitimacy, the relationship between legitimacy and governance," and "the relationship between legitimacy and governance." He was well-received by the audience and received several questions from the attendees.

The ACPS sponsored an international conference on "legitimacy and governance" from July 30 to August 1, 2010, at Endicott College, Beverly, Massachusetts. The conference was well-attended and provided a platform for scholars from around the world to discuss the latest research and developments in the field.
